

Artists Statement

Emerging Neurodivergent author and illustrator

Sibling.divergence@gmail.com 0447115223

INSIDE

My Name is Ally McPhee and I am proud to share my spark for curiosity through the eyes of neurodivergent insects and cars as metaphors. My inspiration for becoming an author was my love for early childhood education and road schooling with young children. I was inspired by my mentors who then inspired my children. Together, we all sparked a curiosity to advocate for our neurodivergent community and share my creative process with the literary commercial world. —

Current Projects

Authentic neurodivergent storytelling and collaboration with experienced clinical oversight

—

Goals

Gain experience through collaboration with commercial illustrators

Self-publish Gizmo's flexible Knot, Zamarra the Cicadas Interrupted and Unplanned day with Rolling Rolly the rainbow dung beetle, Dopest the Locust and savor the silkworm

Collaborative publishing with Prema Nishan for Loaded-How to drive your ADHD—

In progress

The workshop (loaded 2) and the traffic light cookbook for neurodivergent families and carers.

